

Syrian Refugees

Unreached & Unengaged People Group living in Jordan

Leaving Home

More than 5.6 million Syrian refugees (95% of all Syrian refugees) reside in five host countries. Turkey hosts more Syrians than any other country worldwide. In Lebanon, 1 in 5 people is a Syrian Refugee. Iraq hosts refugees even though 3 million Iraqis are internally displaced. Egypt has also taken in refugees.

In Jordan, it is estimated that 11.7% of Jordan's population are Syrian Refugees!*

Zaatari, Azraq and Emirati Jordanian camps host 131,666 Syrians.* Over 80% of registered refugees in Jordan live outside of camps, mostly in urban and rural areas in the north.* Children make up 51% of the refugees and 4% are elderly.*

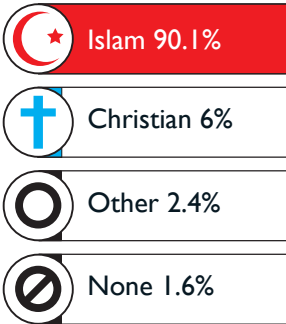

These number change daily due to movement.

A Place to Call Home

Those who fled during the civil war left behind beautiful homes, friends and family too old to travel.

For now, they call Jordan home, but many hope to return to their beloved Syria one day. Some have requested resettlement in the West.

Food Assistance

The UN humanitarian appeal for Syrian refugees is only 40% funded.

In Jordan, refugees are not allowed to work making life difficult. In Lebanon, refugee families receive only $13.50 (€10.95) per month for food assistance.

A family has to live on less than 50 cents a day!

Story of A Baker

One day, a team of Muslim-background believers went to visit a refugee who had been a baker in Syria. They shared stories with him and he repented and believed in Jesus. The team left him with money to buy an oven and start a bakery.

On the team's next visit, the baker heard the story of Phillip and the Ethiopian and he wanted to be baptized. A basin of water was brought, and team members poured water over his head. Then he baptized his family. We pray the Lord will bless this family as they walk in God's grace.

Engaging with God

A team of workers shares the gospel with the refugees. God uses dreams, healing, and other supernatural encounters to bring them closer to Him.
