Business and Gospel Sustainability Creating Opportunity

About 20 Malawians gathered to learn the biblical principles of business, how to seek out entrepreneurial business ideas by learning about and meeting community needs, and to shift mindsets about what business is and how to steward it well. Business For Missions, one of AN's global strategic priorities, is creating opportunities for church planters to not only be sustainable, but to view business as a way to share the gospel. A co-leader of the priority group, along with All Nations' International Business Director, spent some time in Malawi last month, equipping church planters not only to do those things, but much more.

People's minds and hearts were shifted from seeing business as something they own, to seeing God as the owner and they being the steward God has entrusted with the business. Something that is true of everything in our lives! Just like our families and our ministry, we must steward business well because it is a ministry and a testimony of God's goodness.

After 5 days of learning business practices, eight business ideas were generated - from a taxi business to travel to hard-to-reach villages, to establishing a banana farm! Many more ideas may spring up in the coming weeks as participants discover what their community needs. They will also get on-going coaching as they put these ideas to action. Pray for those that attended this training - that they would seek His guidance in their business ideas and obey where and how He leads them to reach their communities for Him!

Storytelling Playing Cards

Adopt A Story!

Invented by a church planter working in East Asia and drawn by his children, these playing cards depict Bible stories that create opportunities to share your faith. In addition to sharing the Gospel, the cards can be used as Bible story flash cards and for discipleship training. Each set contains two decks, illustrating 52 Old Testament stories and 52 New Testament stories. Whether sharing with a neighbor or with an unreached people group, this unique pictorial Bible is a powerful evangelistic tool.

You can help share the stories of Jesus and make disciples all around the world by adopting your favorite Bible Story. For $185.00 you can adopt one of the Bible stories printed on 10,000 sets of Storytelling Playing Cards that will be distributed and purchased around the world to help Jesus people share Jesus stories to people who are in desperate need to learn about their Savior and hero of their own story. Click here to adopt a story today!
